Let's Start!

Families evolve over the years.

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- In your opinion, what is the best age to get married? Why?
- Do you know anyone who has been married for 35 years or more?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about family life.
- I can discuss experiences I've had or haven't had.
- I can say what people are doing now or in the future.

Let's Explore!

Over coffee, Sally tells Peter some sad news*.

* "Sad news" is usually about something that is upsetting.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Peter: Hello, Peter speaking.
Sally: Hey, it's Sally. What's up?
Peter: Well, I'm working. How are you?
Sally: I'm shopping in the area. Can you spare time for a quick coffee break?
Peter: Well, I've stared at the computer screen long enough. Let's go.
Sally: Awesome! I'll see you at the espresso bar in 5 minutes?
Peter: Sounds great!
Sally: So, I just found out that my aunt and uncle are going to get a divorce.
Peter: Oh, your Aunt Katie and Uncle Nick? That's unfortunate. You must feel terrible.
Sally: I do because I'm so close to my extended family.
Peter: I don't believe it either. How long have they been married?
Sally: They've been married for almost 35 years.
Peter: Wow. That's pretty impressive. How are their kids dealing with it?
Sally: Not well, but they've all started their own families.
Peter: Well, I am certainly going to keep my future family a nuclear family.
Sally: Yeah, I will NOT end up being a single parent.
Peter: Or do what John and Sandra are planning: form a childless family.

Learning Points

Talking About the Future

You use both going to and will to talk about the future.

When you talk about things that are not decided or when you make a decision at the moment of speaking for the future, you use the modal will.

When you ask about intentions, you use going to.

| Structure | Situation                                                                                          | Meaning                                            |
|-----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|
| will      | Sally says to Peter on the phone: "I'll see you at the espresso bar in 5 minutes."          | Sally has just agreed on a plan with Peter.        |
| going to  | Two minutes later, Sally tells Vanessa on the phone: "I'm going to have coffee with Peter." | Sally tells Vanessa the coffee plan has been made. |

Examples:

- My aunt and uncle are going to get a divorce.
- I will be rich and famous, like my grandfather.

What have you done?

You use Wh- questions in Present Perfect to ask about the state of a person from a specific time or epoch in the past until the present.

Form:

Wh + auxiliary + subject + verb in past participle + complement?

What

Where

When + have (I/you/they/we)

Why + has (he/she)

How long

How

Examples:

- How long have they been married?
- How have the kids been?
- Where have you had the coffee break this week?
- What has she read lately?
